A message from our President:

Hi Everyone,

Spring is here! What a mild winter we had this year. I bet most of you have been cleaning your yards and planting your spring color, but don't forget the ferns. With so many ground hardy ferns for our area that have a bust of color and different textures, we should be including them in our yards. The spring fiddleheads are also popping and are quite beautiful.

Okay, no peeking! I know we are all excited to see our spore sowings turn into lush carpets of green gametophytes, but it is still too soon. Make sure they are staying moist, but NOT wet. Also, make sure they are getting 12-16 hours of light a day but not in the hot west sun window. If you have not already sprayed the soil once, open the lid and give it a quick squirt or two with the spray we sent home with you. Close the box up tight and be patient. I would like to thank Larry Rucker for helping with measuring the solution for our soil and watering. Larry is always a great help and is especially wonderful preparing and presenting our hands-on programs.

Field trip! Don't forget our annual spring field trip on Saturday the 16th of April, the day before our normal meeting time. Remember there will be no meeting on Sunday April 17th. Please read the VP article for more information. Peckerwood Garden here we come!

Our May meeting will be back at the Judson Robinson Jr. building and we will be in the back room for a presentation on 'Ferns of Mexico' by Alejandra Vasco. We will have more information to come including whether or not the Saturday night get together will take place.

On a personal note, I'd like to thank all the members who came out to the opening of my Nursery. You do not know just how much your support meant to me!! Your feedback was appreciated! I hope you will come out again, I will be adding more ferns over the next few months. Let me know if you're looking for something specific.

See you at Peckerwood Garden.

Darla

Field Trip Peckerwood Garden

Peckerwood Garden is located on FM 359 just a few miles south of Highway 290 (map on last page of newsletter). The garden was founded by John Fairey who purchased the first 6.75 acres in 1971 and later named it Peckerwood Garden. Over the years he expanded the property to 39 acres. The garden was first opened to the public in 1998. Peckerwood Garden is now owned by the Peckerwood Garden Conservation Foundation, a non-profit organization, which is dedicated to preserving, maintaining, and promoting the garden, to continuing plant exploration and trials, and to developing the facilities.

John Fairey recognized the need to preserve the many plant species in Texas and especially in Mexico that were in danger of being lost forever. Sadly this is now true in the wild for many of them. Thanks to his foresight and dedication of collecting seeds and taking cuttings, we are able to see some of these plants for ourselves and students can come from all around the world to study them. How lucky we are to have this treasure in our own back yard.

We will be taken on a guided tour by the new Director of the Gardens Adam Black. We will venture to parts of the garden that are off the beaten path and not included on the normal tour routes. For those of you who have been there before but want to see more, this is your golden opportunity. We will see trees, plants, and of course, all the ferns on the property will be covered. This should be around two hours of mostly walking so please consider your own health requirements.

Adam is also a collector of ferns and rare plants. He is planning on having some of his oddball ferns from his collecting trips to Taiwan and other places on display for us to see and a few to purchase. I know I can't wait!!

We are planning to meet at 10:30 AM at the gardens and start the tour at 11:00 AM. Our members Ruth McDonald and Brenda Wilson, who volunteer at Peckerwood, will be bringing some drinks and nibbles for the field trip, but if you feel you need to bring something from home, please do so. For those who would like to have a bite of lunch afterwards, we are going to go to The Boat that serves seafood and Vietnamese food.

Looking forward to seeing everyone and remember for members it is $10.00 per person and $15.00 for non-members. Please let me know if you're planning on attending so we have a head count and send me your cell number in case you have any issues getting there. Also, if you think you would like to join us for lunch, let me know so we can give the restaurant a heads up on numbers.

Drive carefully,

Microsorium fortunei
Fortune's Ribbon Fern

Family: Polypodiaceae
Genus: Microsorium my-kroh-SOR-um
Species: fortunei for-TOO-nee-eye

This is a very pretty strap fern that is hardy for our area. I have grown this in the ground, in a pot, and in a hanging basket and plan to mount it on a board. We should see this fern at Peckerwood Garden during our field trip.

This fern is a medium sized fern with short creeping rhizomes. It likes medium light and could burn in too high of light. It needs a moist-dry potting mix and prefers high humidity.

The blades (fronds) can get 2 feet long and about 1.5 to 2 inches wide. The sori on the back of the fronds are raised, round, and yellowish. They are placed on either side of the midrib in an irregular line.

This species is native to Indochina, China, Taiwan and Japan.

This is a beautiful fern and is under used in our area. Consider adding this to your collection if you are not already growing it.

April Book Review

“Platynerium Fern Facts” by Wendy Franks

This is a straight forward book containing general information on platyneriums including watering, fertilizing, pest control, and propagating. It discusses 18 species describing the fronds, spore patterns, and specific growing needs such as temperature and humidity requirements. It is an older book but still has some interesting and beneficial information.
